

Eat the Freshest Produce All Season Long!

Organically Grown Local Produce – Delivered Weekly

Moon on the Meadow, a Lawrence farm, is tilling its soil and planting the seeds to feed you this growing season. Accustom your taste buds to vine ripened tomatoes, fresh picked beets, new potatoes, crisp fresh greens, and mesclun salad mix. Buying a subscription membership provides you with the freshest and tastiest produce while you help support sustainable agriculture and a cleaner environment.

Your subscription service provides you with fresh organic produce all season long. The food you eat will be in tune with the rhythm of the changing seasons. Food at its finest without pesticide residues, without using large amounts of fossil fuels to travel miles to your table, without radiation, without genetic engineering. Pure food, picked just in time to deliver to you. You can't buy food this tasty, nutritious, and fresh in the grocery store.

Here's how it works:

- Subscribers receive a bag each week of seasonal produce that is fresh and ready to eat from the fields of Moon on the Meadow in Douglas County. The bag will typically contain 6-8 different items of a variety of vegetables, herbs, and some small fruit.
- Quantities are always a manageable size, and generally based on the amount required for a typical four serving recipe.
- Prices are based on grocery store prices of produce of comparable quality. The price of the bag will be $14.00 a week which includes sales tax. Payment options include weekly, monthly, or the whole season if desired.
- Each week you will receive a farm newsletter either by email or hard copy in your bag (your choice). The newsletter will feature news from the farm, tips on produce preparation and storage, and recipes to try, using the included produce.
- There will be a $40 deposit; $12 is your membership fee and is used to help cover the operating costs of the subscription service, the other $28 will either be refunded or applied toward the last two bags.
- There will be three pick up locations. The two will be on Tuesdays, 6-7pm at 14927 West 95th St in Lenexa and 7:30-8:30 at Westport Roanoke Center, 3601 Roanoke. The third will be on Thursdays, 7:00-8:00pm at 913 NE Colbern Rd in Lee's Summit. Directions will be sent prior to the first pick-up.
- The delivery start date will be Tuesday/Thursday, May 6/8, 2008, and the last delivery will be October 14/16, 2008.
- If you will be gone for a pick-up please let us know at least one week in advance. You can cancel twice per season. If you have to be gone longer please arrange for a family member, friend, or neighbor to pick up that week's bag.
- If you do not let us know ahead of time your bag will be prepared and delivered to the site. We will try and donate the produce to a charitable organization if it is not picked up, but pick up is your responsibility. We will have to charge you for missed bags.
- Have a question? Please call or email Jill Elmers at Moon on the Meadow (785) 749-1197; (913) 269-4672; or jelmers@cfaconsulting.com.
- Participation will be limited so send in your subscription today.

Moon on the Meadow

Moon on the Meadow is owned and operated by Jill Elmers with her wonderful staff of volunteers and workers of all ages. We are located just on the edge of the east city limit of Lawrence, Kansas, in the old river bottoms. The farm is certified organic and is dedicated to sustainable agriculture. Currently we sell our produce at the Downtown Lawrence Farmers' Market and a similar subscription service in Topeka.

Moon on the Meadow subscription service is part of a larger movement that is sweeping the country. Subscription services provide their subscriber members with the highest quality local produce available. Subscribers, through their participation, support sustainable agriculture, reduce energy consumption, contribute to a cleaner environment, and support the local economy and economic viability of family farms.

If you wish to subscribe, please fill out this form and mail it with your check of $40 to Moon on the Meadow, 1515 E. 11th St., Lawrence, Kansas, 66046.
